

About Us

Celebrating Over 35 Years of Service to Families

At the Parent Project®, we believe that parents are the answer. In our 35 plus years, we have worked with over 1.5 million parents raising difficult or out-of-control children. Our programs are based on their experiences and successes. No matter how difficult the situation may be, we can help. “Little miracles”. It’s what we do! The Parent Project® is now the largest court-mandated juvenile diversion program in the country and for agencies, the least expensive intervention program available today.

“ I went in saying ‘I’m done!’. I went in one way; I came out another. The program gave me options. ” -Carla

How Parent Project Works:

- Parents meet one night per week for 2 to 3 hours per night (in-person or online).
- The Parent Project activity-based curriculum allows parents to learn and practice behavior management techniques at home.
- Parent support groups may be formed for ongoing support (using the UCLA self-help support group model)
- Program orientation: behavior modification

Dr. Roger Morgan, Co-Author

Dr. Morgan, a Licensed Psychologist practicing in Southern California, specializes in the treatment of children and adolescents with behavior problems. With 40 years of clinical experience treating high-risk adolescents and their families, Dr. Morgan's focus is helping parents to apply behavioral interventions in the home. When not instructing helping professionals in Parent Project® Facilitator Trainings, he provides direct services to families in his practice. His career goal in both venues is to help parents guide their children through their difficult years to become successful adults.
